

Shannon Clegg

Born in Cape Town, South Africa, lives and works in London, United Kingdom. Shannon is designer and maker who works across a broad range of craft based materials and processes to create products, furniture and objects. Through the utilisation and reimagining of traditional craft skills her practice investigates the narrative potential of making to encourage a better human-nature relationship.